WINNERS AT LONG ODDS.

SOME OUTSIDERS AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY

TET THREE OF THE FAVORITES ARE SUCCESS-

FUL. Although the programme at Sheepshead Bay yester day contained a number of attractive features, the attendance was not large. The gloomy weather, the reaction from the Futurity climax of excitement, and a preference on the part of many admirers of horses for seeing the important stakes to be decided to-day these were probably the reasons for the small propor tions of the assembly. Those who were on hand en-loyed some stirring finishes, saw some good riding, and had an agreeable afternoon in spite of the clouds.

It appears that an injustice was done to the stewards of the Coney Island Jockey Club by many newspapers ssuming that no inquiry was made into the remarkable change of form in Correction's running between rsday and Saturday. The stewards did not sun non Wyndham Walden, Correction's trainer, to the public stand, thinking that would stir up an unpleasant mation, and deeming a quieter course more desir-ile. But he was sent for by the stewards, who metin their own private room, and was asked to explain the change in the filly's performances. He said that Morris Park on Thursday the distance was six furlongs, while it was only five and one-half at Sheepshead Bay on Saturday. On Thursday, he said, the sily was leading at five furlongs, but fell back in the last part of the race. He said further that on Thursday Correction was only just recovering from an ill-gest, and was not fully herself, while on Saturday was undoubtedly much improved in health. was perfectly clear from Mr. Walden's own statement that he had run the fully on Thursday, when she was not in a condition to do justice to her reputation or to that of the stable. But that race took place at Morris Park, not at Sheepshead Bay, and the stewards of the Coney Island Jockey Club had nothing to do with the question of starting Correction at another track, when she was out of condition.

New if the officers of the Concy Island Jockey Club hed sent either a written or an oral message to the representatives of the press who were at the track to the effect that Mr. Walden had made meni to the stewards in regard to the running of Correction, an dthat the stewards found no cause for action, the club would have avoided the annoyce of some severe criticism which was based on the theory that the stewards had taken no notice of the matter. It would have required only an infinitesimal quantity of trouble to send such a message, and it would have been in the club's interest, in the interest of the newspapers, and in the interest of the racegoing public, if such a message had been sent. officers of the club are gentlemen of dignity, authority and influence, and they do many thins well, but in this case they seemed to have erred a little on the side of stateliness, reticence and reserve. If it had been their own private afair, their course would have been commendable. But this was a case in which the promptest, fullest, freest, f.a.k.st explanations were eminently desirable to stimulate public confidence, which was staggering under a rude shock. It seems that Mr. Corrigan sold G. W. Cook a few days ago. That explains his entry in the first race, after the Coney Island Jockey Club had decided to take no more entries from Mr. Corrigan. But both G. W. Cook and Homer were withdrawn, and Chesapeake, the Avorite, at odds on, had an extremely easy victory.

A. J. Joyner made a very shrewd investment, when he bought Chesapeake, who is a full brother of Potomne. Although Chesapeake cannot run successfully in races of any great length-he is a sprinter, not a stayer-he s remarkably fast up to his limit, and will win many more races for Mr. Joyner. Doggett rode Chesapeake Worth was second, ridden by Taral, and Arab third. The track was rather heavy and it was folly to start Meriden in such going. She came in last. Out of the list of thirty-two probable starters for the Dash Stakes for two-year-olds, which was published yesterday, sixteen were withdrawn, including Dagonet and Wightman, and Fred Lee was added and made the favorite. The Brighton Beach unnamed filly by Hi Ban out of Refraction, ridden by Bergen, drew away at the end and won with amazing ease, while Foxfall Keene's Cokena filly ran second, and the favorite, who had acted very badly at the post and was in a villanous temper, got third place by a few inches from Laughing Water. Narvice was on Mr. Withers's eccentric Necromancy colt, who was well backed because of his good second to Emma Primrose in the Produce Stakes at Jerome Park, but it requires a jockey of a far different type from that of Narvice to ride this queer creature properly. The Necromancy colt was not near a place. In fact he was far behind the field for half a mile and was never in the race. Betting against the Refraction filly 8 to 1.

ott & Campbell's good colt Pessarn merely played with the field in the third race and won at his leisure. He was backed down from 8 to 5 to even Bellevue ran a wretched race in the Dolphin Stakes rday, but was made the favorite for the fourth race. He came home in the ruck. William Jenning's filly Mary Stone, who was so badly ridden by Bergen at Jerome Park the other day, was well ridden by little "Major" Covington in this race, and took place, with F. C. McLewce's fast filly Reilly second, and "Missouri" Jennings's Rosa H. third. Rosa H. was supported with great confidence, but both Rosa H. was supported with creat confidence, but both Mary Stone and Reilly were sadly neglected. It was 10 to 1 against each of the two to win, but in the French pools Mary Stone paid the astounding dividend of $15.5 to $5.

The race was doubtful as far as the head of the stretch, but in the last furlong Watterson ran away from his horses and opened a gap of five lengths. Eric came out of the ruck and chased him in, but failed to catch him, and he won by e length and a half; Eric second, three lengths before Bel-wood.

FAST SPRINTERS TO MEET. FEATURES OF A BRILLIANT CARD AT SHEEPS-HEAD TO-DAY.

A tempting feast is set before the race-going public to-day by the Coney Island Jockey Club. It is rare, indeed, that a programme of such brilliancy is offered. In the race for the Spord Stakes some lightning sprinters come together—Racine, Tenny, Loaniaka, La Tosca and Correction. Correction will run more consistently in the future. Wyndham Walden was asked some questions about her by the stewards on Saturday, and the tenor of his reply was that the filly had been ill, but was now almost well again. Tenny looked as fit as a fiddle yesterday, and is said to be in a space devouring condition. La Tosca ditto. This beautiful flying filly will be hard to beat.

A fine field, including the peerless Firenzi, is expected to start in the Twin City Handicap at a mile and a quarter. The Autumn Stakes will show how good a filly Yorkville Belle is. These are the entries in full in all the races:

A TRAINER'S NOTES FROM THE TRACKS. Sheephead Bay, Aug. 31.—The track at Sheeps head Bay was heavy and slow and but little work was done. John H. Morris had his lot out, Bashford moving freely and showing that he had his speed. don't know what happened to him in the Futurity," said John, "but he is a good colt and will prove it before he goes home." J. W. Marr had Poet Scout and Shipmate out. Both are doing well in their work, but Mr. Marr wants a dry track when he works them for keeps or races them. Jack Joyner has struck his golt, and Chesapeake should make amends for the many times he finished second at the spring meetings. St. Pancras, or "Pan cakes," as the boys call him, is ready to do better with his own class. J. W. Rogers is smiling and happy. His favorite, Senorita, is just about due to rain one of her old sime races. Lamplighter did fairly well in the Futurity. He looks and acts all right to-day.

The trainers without exception say that it was the best two-year-old race, taken from any standpoint, run over the Futurity course. The track was dend and soggy, the wind was in their faces from start to finish, and the best colt won with six pounds to spare. "His Highness would make a race with a mule, as he will not try to run awny from his horses," was the remark made by one of the best judges that follow the races. J. J. Hyland has his others out, but did not try to dry up the track with them. Hyland says that he doesn't eccive half as many cigars as he does congratulations and that when he was winning purse and selling races he received an occasional box of cigars. Don't kick, Pincus would be delighted to receive the congratulations and smoke a clay pipe for a year. John Huggins just keeps going and has his selling platers ready for action all the time, and is sure to be up with them should they make may mistakes. Huggins could do no fast work with his horses this morning Brip Donavan has the Pulsifer horses here and is as fat and jolly as ever, but when he talks about Tenny he looks sad and is serious. Like many other trainers he says that the descent of the Matterhorn at Morris Park knocked out all the cracks that raced over it except Riley and the Longshoreman Eon, and Matt Byrnes did some sharp work with several of his lot; that is, he sent them half miles in Montana, Inverness, Shellbark, Tammany, sir Matthew and Silver Fox were worked. Her Majesty Queen Firenzie was given a long gallop. Marcus Daly held a consultation with his trainer, and this is about the dialogue between them :

"How about this one, Matt ?" pointing to one of the

"Well, Mr. Daly, that fellow has speed, and should win selling or purse races if placed right."
"Well, Matt, we will let some of the other boys have a chance to place him. You have enough to do with the ones that can place themselves. Don't you think it would be a good plan to sell a lot of them?" "Why, certainly," was Matt's answer. So they went along the line with the result that a large draft of them will be sold without reserve to the highest bidder on Saturday in the paddock at Sheepshead Bay. All this happened in twenty minutes. That is the sort of turfman Marcus Daly is. To think is to act with him.

Fred Eshner's horses all look well and Fred looks prosperous after his campaign at the springs. Master-lode and Admiral are due to start and Fred has inspected the grass track closely. It looked inviting, and many of the cracks on that kind of going may meet a Gettysburg there. William Lakeland has but two to carry the black with white sleeves, Willie L. and Tea Tray, The latter has a quarter crack and Billy works him carefully. He is in fine shape and should be dangerous later on. At the Gravesend track the first to show were the McLewee horses. Rey del key, Uno Grande, Peter and San Juan, are likely a lot as can be paraded by any stable in the country. The track was heavy and lumpy, and strong work was the exception, but the four did a mile in two minutes. Demuth and Clarendon are both in fair shape, the latter having never fully recovered from the effects of the first mile in the Metropolitan Handicap. Without doubt he was one of the speediest sprinter on the turf. Should Allen start him he will be looking the one that beats him in the eye at the finish.

Yorkville Belle should have a paragraph to herself when named with the other two-year-olds. In holding a post-mortem on the Futurity when every one was cooled out and the excitement was over, Murphy said that when the filly hung a little in the stretch he thought the crowd might have stopped her a little. this he did not mean that she could have beaten His Highness but might have been closer to him at the finish. Heligate and Fred Lee are both in fair shape. and on a dry fast track should be up with the proceive a few preliminaries this week to educate him in J. Long, #300.

Sam Bryant has a fewel in Emma Primrose. She can run in any kind of going, and run fast, so Sam is happy and says: "When we uns come East you uns must send us back. We come here with a grip sack and go home with Saratoga trunks."

Green Morris had his lot out. He will do the trick with Judge Morrow if he gets in any race with a reasonable amount of weight on his back. Strathmeatl should have a chance with his class in the three-yearold division. Green has but little to say in regard to the Huron affair. He says that the weather bad that Huron was not keyed up to the pitch he would

Phil Dwyer, jr., and Ed McGarry have formed a mutual consoling society, and meet several times a day at Bolero the Dude's box and gaze at his bandaged leg. Eon seems to say to them: "There's that Potomac over there; he's a high-priced chappie, but never put on the airs that his joblots did. No one is standing around his stall all the time. Why don't you feed him on corned beef and cabbage?" McGarry chased the longshoreman away from the door as Sir John is the same as ever, a plain easy-going horse that does all he can whenever he starts. Sir John never makes any unnecessary remarks, and stands in with St. Carolus, a slashing big St. Blaise that has been doing good work, one move in 1:19 over Graves-

At M. F. Dwyer's stable the horses are in splendid oudition with the exception of Potomac and Longstreet, both of which are out of training.

The Dash Stakes to-day was a good race. horses were a bad lot to start. Several of them were unruly at the post, and would not break while others would break in spite of the jockeys. Let them tell it "What are you doing?" roared the starter to one

That horse kicks," said the lockey.

"So do I," said the starter.
"I know it," said the jockey

"Now, what ails you?" Mr. Caldwell said to antoher, "This horse has an iron mouth," said the jockey "So have you," said the starter, "and I knew it. And so it went on. The Cokena filly, Beau Brummel and Airtight caused most of the frouble. When th flag fell it was to a splendid start, all in motion and close together. The following tockeys were fined $25 aplece: Bergen, Daggett, Littlefield, A. Covington Clayton, Narvaez and Lambley.

One of the officials of a leading jockey club said last night that it was likely that some action would be taken to furnish a place in a central location where ell declarations, scratches, etc., would be posted, also the forfeit list and notices of the transfer of engagements. Such a resort is badly needed and is a step in the right direction, and should have a man in charge that is practical and knows just what he is doing, not a figurehead with some one else to do the work.

The mosted trip to England by His Highness was the principal subject talked over by the trainers to-day Should he go it is possible that Longstreet will accompany him and take a crack at the handicap horse over there. In the Cambridgeshire and Cesarewitch the chances are that he would have close to the top weight, as the Britons have got over the idea that their horses are a stone or fourteen pounds better than horses bred in other countries. Should he arrive safe and go to the post fit as he was the day he vanquished Tenny he could come home a winner and M. F. Dwyer could win a section of the tight little Island. Surefect, the winner of the islapse Stalles at Suicovan Park, was an odds-on favorite for the Derby one year ago, but was not placed in the race for the "line Ribbon." He is a veritable savage in a race or out of one, yet he won the Eclipse. How is such a horse going to beat a horse with the speed, staming, disposition and weight-carring abilities of It's Highness! Common and Memoir will be probable starters in the stake, and should His Highness win weight, as the Britons have got over the idea that speed, staming, disposition and weight-carring abilities of It's Highness! Common and Memoir will be probable starters in the stake, and should His Highness win it would be one of the greatest victories ever achieved by American courage and enterprise.

There is a chance that there will be racing at the Elizabeth tracks this fall. The decision of the court will be handed down on October 16. The Hudson County magnates have not claimed October dates, as one of the big four said to-day that they would wait some time yet as others were likely to race in October.

Every horse in the Hoboken Stable is to be sold. As Fred Walbaum says: "Me and Mr. Morris can't run horses, as the people kick when we win and kick when we lose. I can't stand the crifticisms in the papers. W. L. Scott had to sell out, so did Haggin. I will sell everything down to the scrapers." Alas, alas, for the tarf!

everything down to the scrapers." Alas, alas, for the tarf!

D. Covington, who has a farm of 800 acres in Kansas, where he raises jockeys and raceborses, is at the track, and intends to stay a week. He reports the death of Klohba, a horse well known to old time racegoers. Klohba was the sire of several colls that have raced snecessfully in the bush, and one of his get will be raced on the tracks in this yleinity, having shown good enough work to ship her East. Here is a nut for scientists to crach: In that country the lungs of a 700-pound bronche will weigh five or more pounds more than the lungs of an Eastern-bred horse that weighs 1,050 pounds. This is advanced as an argument that Kansas is the country in which to raise the best horses, as they should stay any distance, having bigger and better lungs. Horses with heaves and thick in the wind are unknown out there.

TALK ABOUT THE TROTTERS.

A dispatch was received by Robert Bonner yesterday from Charles Marvin telling him that Sunol was worke three miles on Saturday at the Palo Alto track, the time of the last being 2:28. She did not go lame 0 show the slightest sign of strain or weakness. Bonner is satisfied that his great fifly will be able to g against her record before the end of this month. This is the third time Marvin has telegraphed to Mr. Bonne about sunoi's improvement, confirming the belief that the directions sent by the owner of Mand S, to balance the flyer were correct. Sunol has been worked gradu ally increasing in speed since her lameness ceased in a few days she will be put in training for her trial against time the last of this month.

It is hardly likely now that a meeting will be given at Fleetwood this autumn. Hoad driving, that is of the old style, is getting to be less and less a feature of opolitan life, and the giving of a trotting meeting at Fleetwood during the present apathy of the members of the Gentlemen's Driving Club New-York so certainly means a loss that few care to go into the thing. A. A. Bonner said yesterday that The Tribune's suggestion of a programme of liberal purses was the only possibly profitable idea that could be entertained. If he had his way a purse of from $5,000 to $10,000 would be offered at once for two champions, say, such cracks as Nancy Hanks and Rosalind Walker. He couldn't of course, tell the exact size the purse would have to be to insuze the appearance of two such fast ones without first communicating with Doble and George Turner, but he is sure that a race between these two, even in New-York, which is proverbially dull for trotters, would be a paying in vestment. Mr. Bonner says that no management can make Fleetwood Park a good venture in the long run. In the first place, the facilities for reaching it are wretched. Then, too, the course is not level and no owner or trainer or horsehoer that ever lived can boot and shoe a trotter right for speed both up-hill and down. The grand stand, instead of the club-house, should be in front of the finish. Who ever heard before of a club-house at a racetrack being on the wire!

SELLING YEARLINGS OF SEVERAL STUDS. AN AVERAGE OF #521 30 A HEAD REALIZED-DE TAILS OF THE AUCTION.

The amphitheatre in which William Easton, of Tattersalls, is wont to sell some of the product of our best American mares, by imported and native stres. was gayly lighted last night. In the balconies were a few women, whose dresses added color to the scene. Several yearlings of aristocratic lineage went under the hammer, and the bidding was brisk. The yearlings that were watched with most interest were those of the Peytona, Hurstbourne, and Ferncliff studs. Most of them were by Blazes, George Kinney, or Imp, Kings ton. The Peytona stud belonged to H. P. Shafer, of Gallatin, Tenn.; the Hurstbourne to N. G. Harris, of Louisville, and the Ferneliff to William Astor.

VAN BUREN NO MATCH FOR KINGSTON. Chicago, Aug. 31.-Kingston is himself again. In the match race with Van Buren at Garfield Park today for a purse of $3,000, the great horse simply played with the little blaze-faced wonder and passed the wire in a common canter three lengths to the good. Twelve thousand people were on the grounds when the race was called. The day was raw and wraps and overcoats were to be seen everywhere. The bookmakers fared well on the result, as Kingston was held at prohibitive odds, 1 to 5 being the shortest price against bim at any time, while Van Buren, at 4 to 1, was nibbled at by the small bettors. Hamilton was astride Kingston, while "Tod" Sloan had the mount on Van Buren. The distance was a mile and a sixteenth, and the time was 1:50 3-4.

WHO WON AT SARATOGA. THE LAST YEAR OF MR. SPENITE'S MANAGE-MENT OF THE HISCORIC TRACK.

With the close of the twenty-eights season of th Saratoga Racing Association, the management which has guided it past the rocks and over the shouls of that long period has dropped the tiller, and new pilots will nodernize the historic track. Since the death of John Morrissey, fourteen years ago, the burden of management has fallen upon Mr. Spencer. It has been a heavy one, and he has made repeated efforts to relieve himself of it, as he is not a racing man. The year following Morrissey's death Messrs. Withers, Belmont and Lorillard demanded that the Saratoga racing season should be brought to a close on August 12. This was impossible, and then followed the famous declaration of war: "We will make the grass grow on your track." Those gentlemen were offered the track at what it cost, and it has been in the market ever since that time, but no grass has grown upon it.

The impression had gone forth that the racing season ust closed was a failure. This is far from the truth in a public sense, for there have never been so many people in Saratoga, and the crowds at the track every day were larger than ever before. In a pecuniary sense, it may not have been as successful as last year, for reisons that are apparent. In the first place, Mr. Spencer voluntarily increased the purses and added money to stakes to the extent of $20,000, and sec ondly, the rival tracks at Chicago kept twenty-eight Western bookmakers from making their annual ptl-grimage. Nevertheless, Mr. Spencer is satisfied with the season's results by the increased public patronage extended to the track.

During the thirty days there were 157 races, two of F. which were "walk-overs." The sum of $96,200, in cluding $500 in plate, was given in purses and added

I didn't want to try it at first; but I finally let myself be persuaded, and now I wish I had tried it when I first saw the advertisement, instead of waiting so long. I would have saved myself two years of hard work. I wasted two years of my life, for I can call them nothing else but wasted since they were spent in doing useless work when GOLD DUST WASHING POWDER could just as well have done it for me.

THE CRICKET LEAGUE RECORD. M. R. COBB AGAIN WINS THE SILVER CUP PRE

SENTED BY THE REV. DR. RAINSFORD. Only one more game of the championship series of the and as the result of it cannot affect the standing of th and as the result of it cannot see that shows their final positions. The Manhattans and Brooklyns are tied for the lead in Section II, and these clubs will have to play off the tie on Saturday. It is generally conceded that the Manhattan is the stronger of the two, and the final game should be played between the Staten Island and Manhattans. This will be played on September 12, and in order that every cricketer in New-Jersey may be there, all the clubs will cancel their fixtures for that day.

The New-Jersey A. C. made a gallant light for the lead in their section, and but for an unfortunate accident which deprived them of the services of their best bowler in the last match, it is probable that they would be in the final. M. R. Cobb again wins the silver cup presented by the Rev. Dr. W. S. Rainsford, the president of the League, for the best batting average, and he will also obtain the bowling cup presented by James D. Boyd. In the appended averages only those are included who have batted in at least six innings. Two hundred and lifty players engaged in the contest during the season. Frightful Loss of Life!

Of the many disasters with which mankind has been risited, one of the worst is that class of ailments which riginating simply with inactivity of the kidneys and ladder, causes such frightful loss of life. Under this ppalling category come Bright's disease, diabetes, gravel, edinary nephitis and catarrh of the bladder. No class of organic maladies, against which medical skill is nitted, so often baffles the expert practitioner and sets his skill at naught. Easy it is, however, to arrest these direful aliments at the start. The diuretic action of Host-tter' Stomach Bitters is just sufficient to set the bladder an sidneys at work, preserve or rescue them from fatal in-activity without exciteg them. The unnedicated stimuinnt of commerce excite without either strengthening or regulating Hostetter's Stomach Bitters does both it is unfailing for maiaria, dyspepsia, debility, rheumatism. liver complaint and constipation.
